

Ajay Kaushik

Associate Professor, Department of Planning and Architecture

He graduated from School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi in the year 1996. He completed his Masters Degree with specialisation in Architectural Conservation from the same institute. He pursued his PhD from DCRSUT Murthal. Design, Building Construction and Architectural Conservation are his core subjects. He has vast experience of designing and handling various projects of different scales and complexity. He is associated with DLCSUPVA since 2013 and currently he holds additional responsibilities of Dean Academic Affairs and Controller of Examinations.